An Essay on the Warrant Nature and Duties of the Office of the Ruling Elder in the Presbyterian Church Samuel Miller
In the month of March last, the Author of the following Discourse received a written request from Sixty-J ive of the Ruling Elders, connected with the churches of Philadelphia, that he would deliver in that city, in the course of the month of May ensuing, and during the Sessions of the General A ssembly, a Sermon on the Warranty Nature, and Duties of the office of the Ruling Elder in the Presbyterian Church. It was suggested, as an argument in favour of such a service, that a plain and abridged view of these topics might reach and impress some minds not accustomed or disposed to peruse larger works. This request was communicated to him by Doctor William Darrach, and J. B. Mitchell, and A. Symington, Esquires, a Committee of the whole body, in terms which evinced a degree of zeal for the increased activity, and enlarged usefulness of the Eldership of our beloved Church, which could not fail to make a deep impression on a mind imbued with any sensibility in regard to this important subject.
